Various things have delayed my writing to tell you how much I enjoyed seeing you at dinner, when Mr. Foreman brought you to the Harvard Club; and how greatly interested I shall be in your manuscript. If you write as interestingly as you talked to us that evening, your manuscript will be worthy of high praise indeed.

I am looking forward to your sending me the Table of contents, and a chapter or so when you have it prepared, and I hope you will then have dinner with me again so that we can talk it over together -

Dear Dr Riza,

It was a great pleasure to get your letter and I hope you will continue to let us have news of you and of the movements in which you are interested.

Kindly let me know if I have addressed this letter correctly and when it reaches you. I remember well our conversation in London and continue to have a deep interest in all that we spoke of.

My friends and I have begun editing a little series of books of which I send you one. I hope it will give you a favourable impression of what the early Celtic Church stood for in Scotland.

Any news you can send will be most welcome.

Yours with kindest regards
Dane S. Whyte

Dear Dr. Rıza Tewfik,

Many thanks for your kind letter of recent date.

I am bestirring myself in regard to the finances, and would very much like to have you send me three or four more leaflets about yourself, as I had to leave the one you so kindly sent me in the hands of those who can aid me to make the right contact.

I am glad you like the Genghis Khan book! The same author wrote an other one entitled Tamerlane, the Earth Shaker.

The New York Public Library (Central) has issued a catalogue of 118 pages on the subject of Persia alone. Of course I bought a copy, and am starting my research work and reading.

Hoping to hear from you soon, and with best regards to Mrs Tewfik and yourself. Sincerely yours, Bertha Eleta di Rapalje.

Dear Dr. Tewfik

Since having the pleasure of seeing you and Madame Tewfik, I have heard something that may be of interest to you as it regards the book about Abbas the Great. The first is: that Harold Lamb who wrote "Genghis Khan" and "Tamerlane" has forsaken the Mc Bride company — his former publishers — I am told that the Mc Bride Co. would be glad to take up such a book as we plan writing. I could not get to see Mr. Glanzer (the editor, in this publishing firm who was so gracious to me about an other book), but there is no need of haste in that matter. I mean that I went to his office, but he was too busy to see me. I called on Mr. Froelich, Editor of "Asia" to see how far he would commit himself regarding to serial rights. He will say nothing until he sees the finished manuscript but there is no doubt in my mind.

mind on that score. If the manuscript is interesting and well written they will most assuredly print it. And that is, as you know, the only way to make immediate money on such a work while the book is being published.

Mr. Froelich was very pleased to hear about this work, and spoke in no uncertain terms as to his great esteem for you.

I forgot to say that Harold Lamb left the Mc Bride Company for Doubleday, Doran & Co.

Wishing you all prosperity and success, and with best wishes to you and Madame Tewfik for a pleasant voyage,
I remain

Ever sincerely yours
Bertha Eletta de Rapalje

Dear Sir:

My brother, John W. Garrett, the present American Ambassador to Italy, has forwarded to me your letter of October 2nd with regard to the possibility of cataloguing the Turkisk, Persian and Arabic manuscripts in my collection. You will note that the collection belongs to me rather than to my brother.

While it is desirable to have this collection thoroughly catalogued, it is not possible at this time to undertake the work. Nevertheless, I appreciate your writing about it. Probably at some future time it will be undertaken and then I shall be glad to consider your suggestion.

Yours very truly,

Robert Garrett

Dear Dr. Taufik,

It was a great pleasure to have your letter and to know you take an interest in Mukibin. I hope she will be a credit to Transjordan.

I am sending you a book to look at which contains some English translations from the Persian which may interest you if you have not yet seen it.
There is an index of authors at the end.

I hope to see you here soon.

Yours sincerely,

Mida Piller.

Please present my compliments to Mrs. Taufik
