Dear Riza Tewfik Bey,

Please excuse my apparent inhospitality: I have to speak, or at all events to try to speak in the House of Commons, and so cannot be at home to meet you. If you would care to come and lunch with me in the House of Commons after I have spoken; I should be very much honoured if you would do so. Or, if it would be more convenient to come and lunch at 2 o'clock here on Monday, I shall be delighted to see you then.

If you would care to come to the House to-day, Mr Sealy will show you the way.

Yours sincerely
Aubrey Herbert

Bestly will show you the way.

If you would care to come to the House to-day, Mr
on Monday, I shall be delighted to see you then.
